Eriez® Promotes Mike Shattuck to Product Manager—Recycling Equipment

Erie, Pa. — Eriez® has announced the promotion of Mike Shattuck to Product Manager—Recycling Equipment. Most recently, Shattuck served as Heavy Industry Project Manager.

According to Eriez, in his new role Shattuck will continue his duties of actively selling Eriez equipment to the Metals Recycling Market, while taking on the additional responsibilities of coordinating new and modified product development and cost reduction programs for Eriez' recycling product offerings. "Mike will work closely with our Research & Development and Engineering team as well as providing technical support and O.E.M. sales strategies," explains Charlie Ingram, Vice President of Sales and Marketing.

Eriez' sales and business growth in the Metals Recycling Market has been substantial in recent years. "In the past several years, we have made significant investments in the Metals Recycling Market, including new product development, personnel, our sales organization and aggressive marketing efforts," explains Ingram. "Mike has been a significant contributor to Eriez' success in this critical and thriving sales area."

Shattuck joined Eriez in 2006 as a Technical Sales Representative. "Mike's energy, professionalism and resourcefulness have been a terrific asset for Eriez," says Ingram. "Those qualities will help ensure his success with his expanded responsibilities."
